

The Creative process:

“Manly Deeds” 19th century periodical cover

I posed for the photos to base the pen and ink drawing on.
The alligators were based on the toy at right.

The Creative process:
Mt. Terror / Mt. Arthur

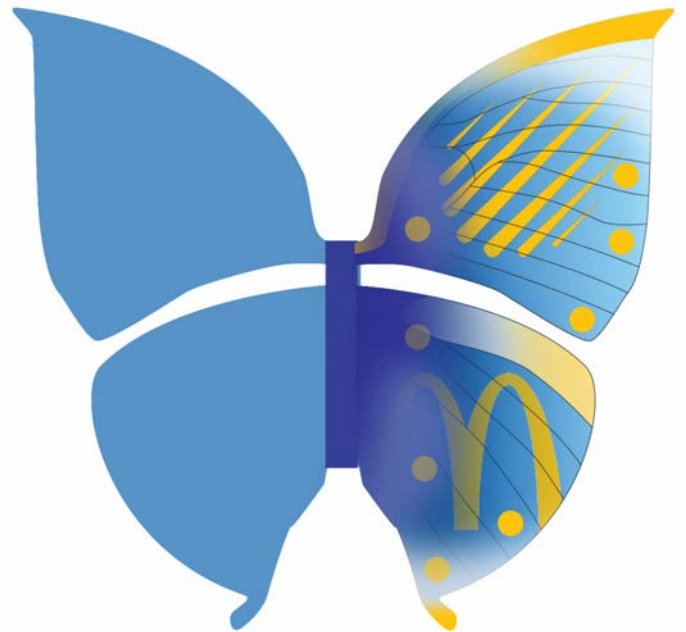

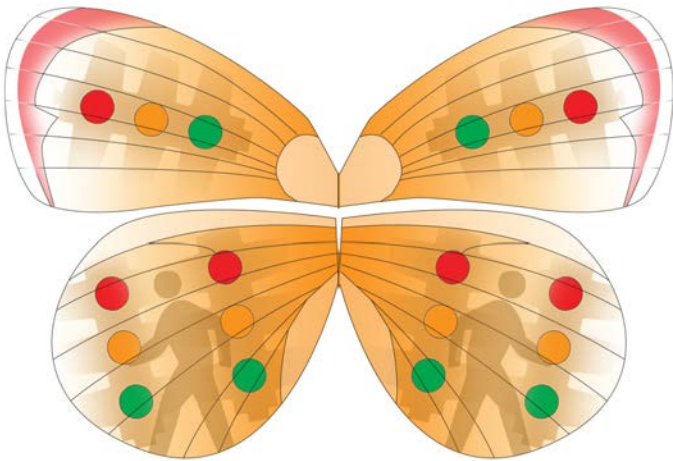

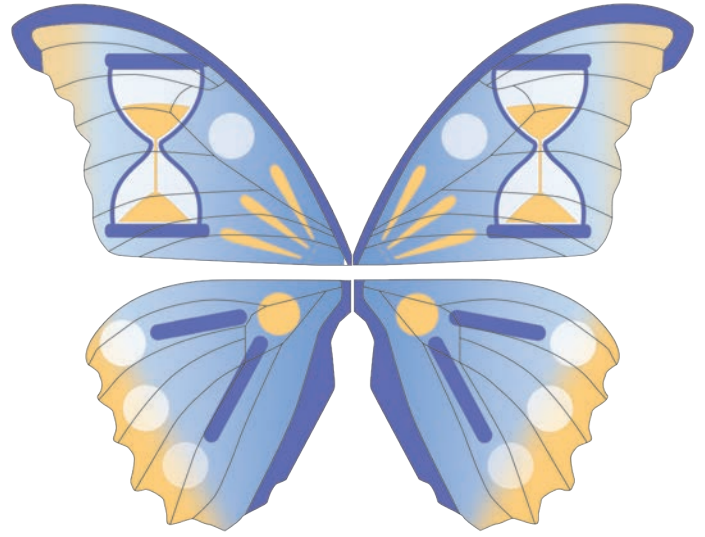

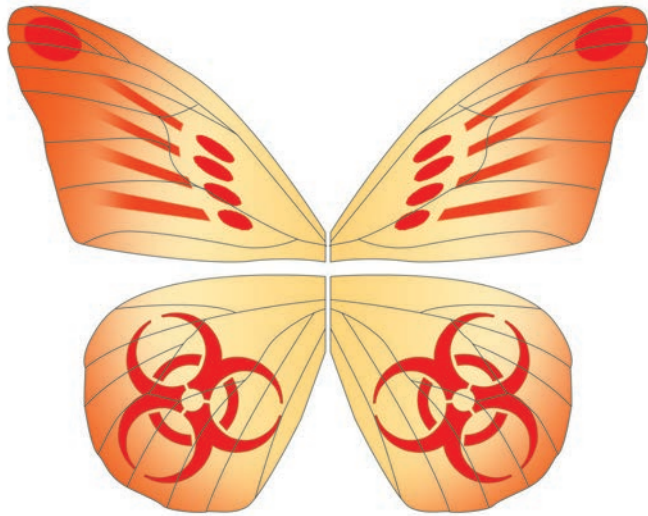

Acrylics
with action figures used as models

The Creative process:

Butterflies and an Order of the Emperor Penguin medal

Figures and whimsical wing patterns drawn in Adobe Illustrator

Orde van de Keizerspinguin is Dutch for Order of the Emperor Penguin

The Creative process:

Butterflies and an Order of the Emperor Penguin medal

Look at the wing patterns.

What do you see?

Butterfly wing designs drawn in Adobe Illustrator, printed on acetate and cut out.
Bodies made of polymer clay with wire and string. Painted in acrylics.

Make-believe medal cast from Adobe Illustrator line art.

Orde van de Keizerspinguin
is Dutch for Order of the Emperor Penguin